MONACO WOMEN FORUM

The Monaco Women Forum, launched in 2018, promotes conferences and debates on present-day issues and takes place each year in conjunction with the Monte-Carlo Woman of the Year Award.

With a different theme each year, exceptional speakers from a variety of industries come together through this Forum to exchange and debate current issues.

For its 8th edition, the MWF aims to highlight experts in aerospace, cybersecurity, AI, telecommunications, and finance, with discussions linked by the main topic: the new space race.

MONTE-CARLO WOMAN OF THE YEAR AWARD

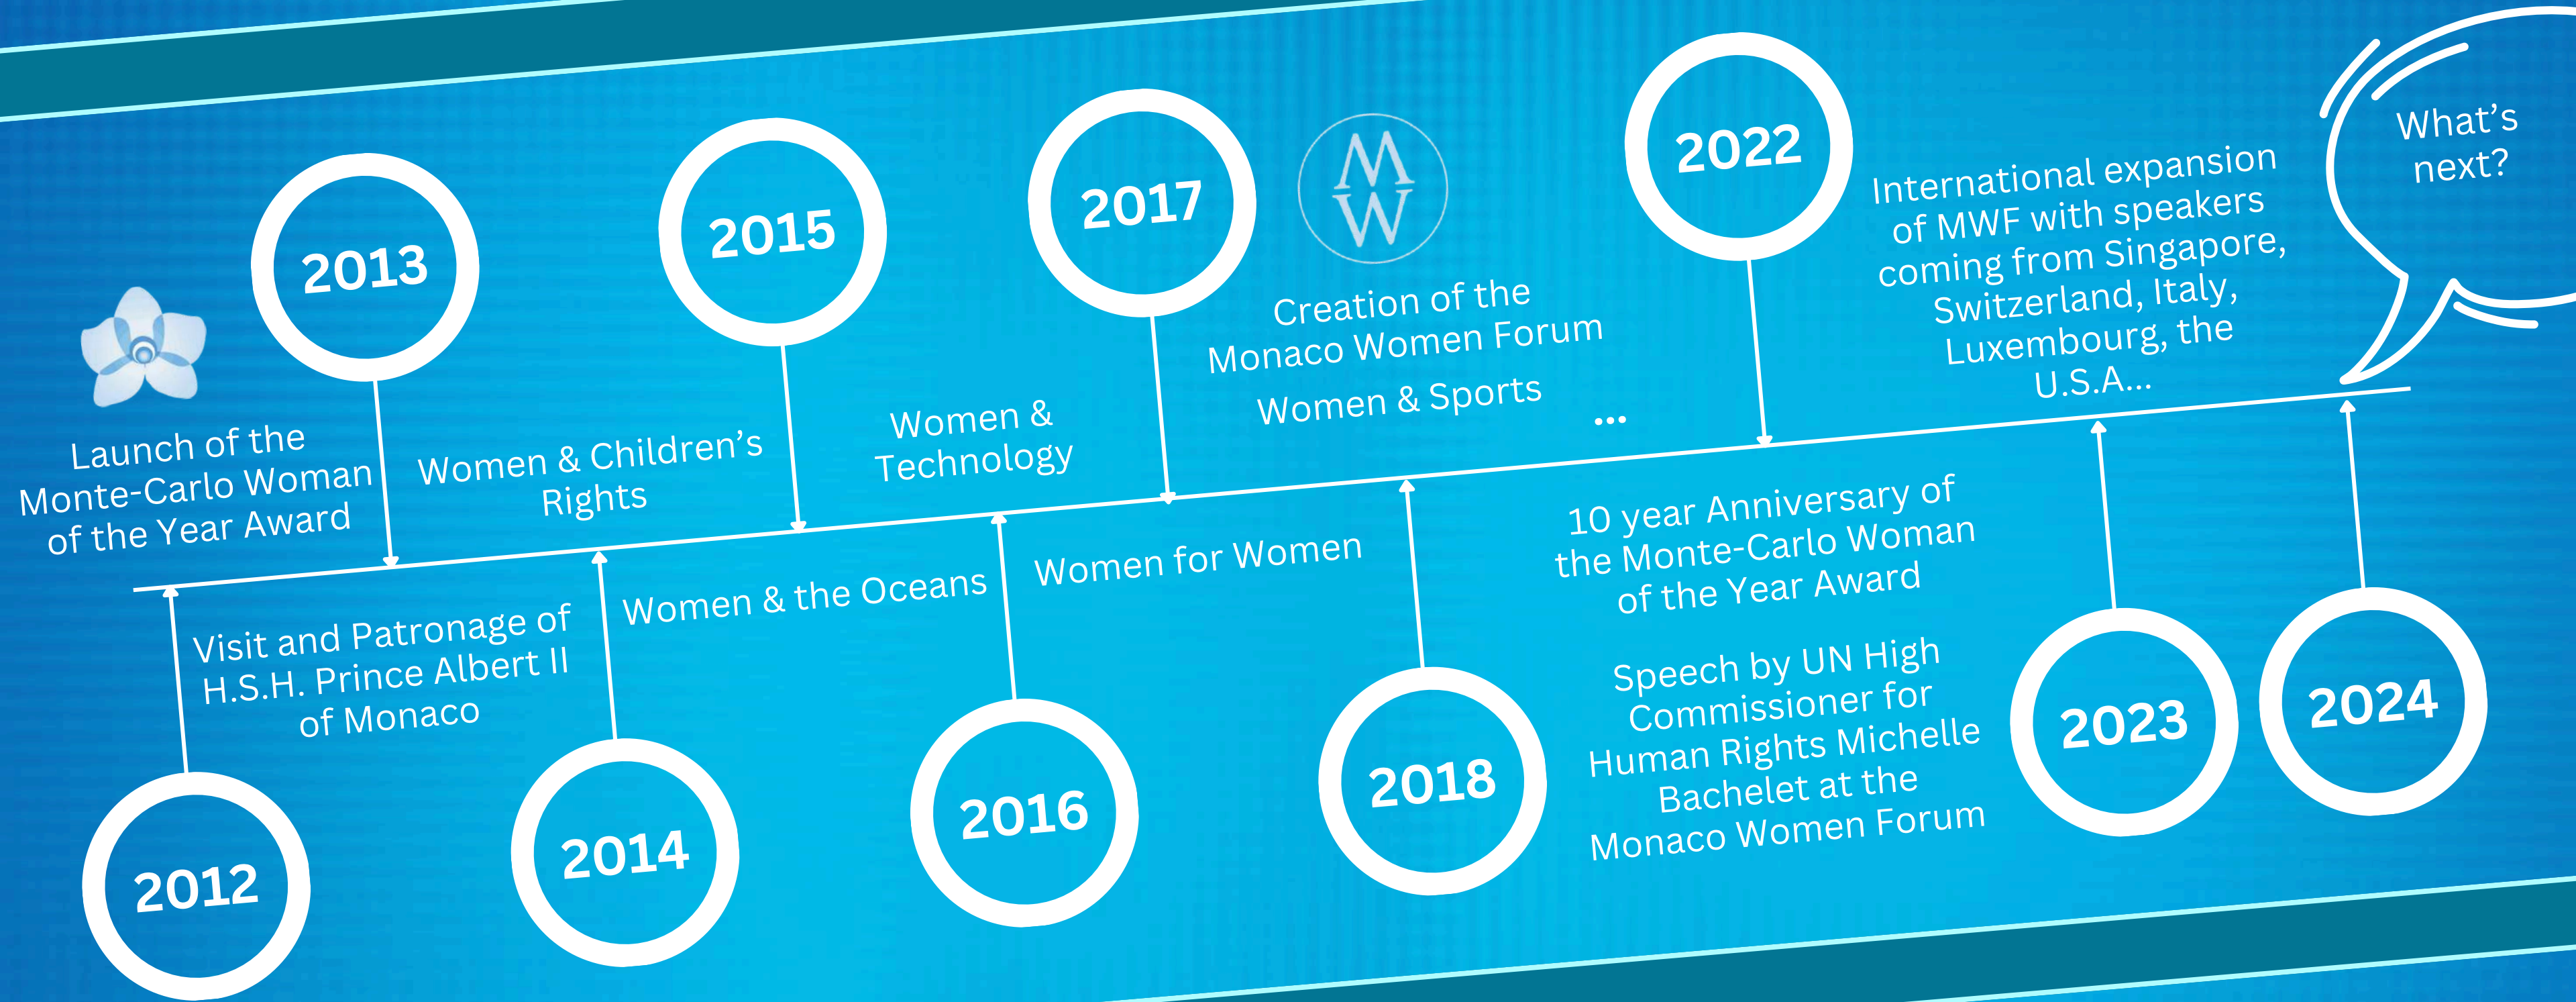

The idea for this award was conceived in 2012 by Cinzia Sgambati-Colman, a journalist, entrepreneur, mother and wife who has always tried to maintain balance among all her roles.

The Monte-Carlo Woman of the Year Award honors women who, without enjoying public notoriety, have distinguished themselves in their daily lives and careers by achieving significant goals. The award highlights their quiet success, based on their skills and hard work.

Nominations come from all over the world, regardless of race, culture or religion. The Committee of Experts carefully evaluates these nominations and selects the winners to be honored with this prestigious award.

Al Monaco Women Forum le innovazioni portate da Ai e dalla convergenza smart Intelligenza artificiale, cybersicurezza, mobilità smart e guida autonoma, reti 5G e 6G, difesa delle infrastrutture strategiche, sostenibilità. Sono alcuni dei temi affrontati da docenti, ricercatori ed esperti nel corso della settima edizione del Monaco Women Forum che si svolge nel One Monte-Carlo del Principato.

Le reti mobili con banda ultralarga 5G e un domani con il 6G sono i pilastri su cui si basa l'efficienza delle comunicazioni a cui si deve garantire la sicurezza come hanno rimarcato Petra Scudo e Isabella Cerutti, ricercatrici del Ccr (Centro comune di ricerca) della Commissione europea. Per quanto riguarda la protezione dei dati che transitano è stato affrontato il nodo della sicurezza di queste infrastrutture e in modo particolare dei satelliti che al momento restano vulnerabili agli attacchi dei cyber criminali. In un'ottica di convergenza digitale Sergio M. Savaresi, docente del Politecnico di Milano, insieme all'ingegnere Maria Marcello hanno presentato come Ai e mobilità smart trasformeranno il modo di fare un viaggio secondo un modello di mobilità green e autonoma. Il WMF è stato organizzato da Cinzia Sgambati Colman e i lavori moderati da Maria Betti, ex direttore della sicurezza nucleare della Commissione europea, presidente del Consiglio scientifico dell'Istituto oceanografico della Fondazione Alberto I° e da Laurent Marochini, responsabile dell'innovazione del dipartimento titoli della Société Générale. «In Europa, noi legiferiamo, negli Stati Uniti, loro innovano e in Cina, loro realizzano» ha sottolineato Marochini. Lo spunto su cui Maria Betti ha posto l'accento è «l'importanza dell'equilibrata regolamentazione e incoraggiare il progresso e garantire al contempo libertà e standard etici».
